

Need flexibility in your studies?
– Choose Finnish Online University of Applied Sciences!

Studying through the Finnish Online University gives you flexibility, freedom of choice and experiences of alternative ways of studying. You can choose the appropriate time and place to study and personify your studies the way you want. Online studying requires initiative, active information acquisition and organising your schedule, but it is worth the trouble!

Finnish Online University of Applied Sciences offers UAS courses and electronic services in one place. All Finnish Universities of Applied Sciences offer courses through the amk.fi portal (= oncampus.fi) of the Finnish Online UAS. Any student, who has the right to study in any UAS in Finland in the following degree programmes, can participate in these courses free of charge:

- UAS Bachelor's degree
- UAS Master's degree
- Programme of vocational teacher training

If you are not a degree programme student in a Finnish UAS, you can still take courses in the Finnish Online UAS, for example as Open Studies. In that case the courses are usually chargeable.

You don't need to fuss with papers: application is done electronically through the amk.fi portal. At the portal you can also monitor how your application progresses. When your application has been handled, you receive information directly to your e-mail.

Your own UAS gives you advice on how to integrate the studies into your own degree.

Read more about the courses offered by the Finnish Universities of Applied Sciences and apply for courses at www.amk.fi

What is the Finnish Online University of Applied Sciences?

Finnish Online UAS is a collaboration network of Universities of Applied Sciences. Together they develop, produce and offer high-quality online studies and training services. The aim is to promote virtual student mobility across the institutions.

